Rev. Richard Denton

of Hempstead, Long Island For the First Five Generations

Prepared from manuscript notes of Wm. A. D. Eardeley, deceased, by George D. A. Combes, 123 Lincoln Avenue, Rockville Centre, N. Y. August, 1936

Note By George D.A. Combes

The following extremely brief genealogy of the descendants of Reverend Richard Denton, one of the early settlers at Hempstead, L.I., is written up from mss. notes prepared over a period of several years by Wm. A. D. Eardeley Esq., now deceased, a careful genealogist. The writer aided at one time to some small extent in gathering some of the data herein, from some of the descendants. Having purchased the mss. notes, and feeling that the results of so much research ought not to be lost, and also realizing that a genealogy of this family ought to be more readily available to descendants, and to historians seeking data, this outline or skeleton of what may some day be a full Genealogy is made available in its present form, as being full of dates and valuable data for the use of such as desire authoritative matter on this family.

It is carried here only to the fifth generation of descent with their children of the sixth generation listed. The mms. has a large amount of data on the 6th generation, with further data on many unplaced families undoubtedly related to the parent branches.

A full copy of the manuscript notes of W. A. D. Eardeley is in possession of the Queens Borough Public Library at Jamaica, New York.

It is hoped that others interested in Denton Genealogy will communicate with me if any errors are noted, or if additional data unknown to me is discovered, so that if later publication of a more complete record is ever attempted it will be as accurate as possible.

In the following Genealogical data, it will be apparent that many of the actual dates of birth, marriage or death are not actually ascertainable. An effort has been made to supply a probable suggested date in many places. Where only the year date is given, the reader will assume that the date so given is a suggested probability only. Where full date is given, this has been taken from some record believed authentic. Where a date is given as before or after a certain year date, such . date is fixed by deduction from some authentic document.

A very few changes from Eardeley's dates have been made by the writer, in the light of more recently discovered information. Mr. A.S. Wardwell of #1725

Dorchester Road, Brooklyn, N.Y. who has for years taken a great interest in Long Island Genealogies, has aided in the preparation of this data. We cannot report any success in an effort to trace the English ancestry of Rev. Richard Denton, beyond having established the fact that a Denton family lived in the vicinity of Halifax, Yorks. There are many baptisms, marriages and burials of the name there, and the name Richard is frequently found. As this vicinity is close to Coley Chapel where Denton is known to have served as Curate, it seems reasonable to presume that he was of this family.

DENTON

Rev. Richard Denton was born about 1603, said to be from Yorkshire, in England. No mention is known to the writer of the name of his wife in any record in this country, though the Rev. Richard himself is frequently referred to, leading to the supposition that he was perhaps a widower. He seems to have preached first at Watertown, Mass. about 1635; then to Wethersfield, Conn. at the early settlement of that place; thence to Stamford, Conn. in 1641; and later to Long Island. He is frequently referred to as the first minister at Hempstead, L.I., but in a deed at Stamford in 1650, in which he disposed of his property there he refers to himself as of "Mashpeag" on Long Island. There are two documents at Albany, signed by him, dated from Mashpeag and Middleborough in 1650-51. He is stated to have for a time preached to the English soldiers at the Fort in New Amsterdam, probably at about the time of the Indian troubles in 1643-5. In 1658 he was definitely engaged to act as minister at Hempstead, as appears from a contract on the Town Records. He is stated to have returned to England about 1659 taking a church in Essex, at which place he is stated to have died about 1662-3. He is reported to have been Presbyterian, but his service at the earlier churches in New England was in a vicinity of markedly "Independent," or "Congregational" opinion, and he evidently accepted the Church of England, at least in his later years, in taking a charge in A rather interesting study of his religious affiliations is found in "History of the Presbyterian Church, Jamaica, L.I." by Jas. M. Mac Donald, D.D. 1862, pages 65-67. His influence among the early settlers of these various communities was evidently powerful, as we find that quite a few of the first settlers at Stamford evidently followed him to Hempstead. Venn's "Cambridge Alumni" says of Richard Denton:

"Sizar of St. Cath. Easter 1621. B. 1603 in Yorks.

B.A. 1622-3. priest 8 June 1623. Deacon at Peterborough 9 March 1622-3. Curate of Coley Chapel Halifax for some years. Went to New England about 1638. Preached at Stamford, Conn. and Hampstead, Long Island. 15 years. Returned to England 1659, said to have died at Hempstead, Essex 1663. Author of Soliloquia Sacra."

Note the date of birth does not agree with American authorities, but seems more probable, as it would make him 20 at graduation, instead of about 40. American authorities, notably Thompson, place his birth at from 1583 to 1586, but most agree that he graduated in 1623.

The Rev. Richard Denton was in all probability born at or near Halifax in England. The records of the Church there have been partly published, down to about 1595, and are voluminous. In the births are records of many of the name Denton, and the name of Richard is frequently found. These records show that the Denton family had been located for over a century at least at Halifax before the birth of our Richard. Coley Chapel, of which he was Curate, was the center of a small group of outlying communities near Halifax, and from several of these places came quite a few of the early settlers of Hempstead.

From various authorities we have constructed the following outline of his family:

1. Rev. Richard Denton

Born 1603?, Yorks Mar. about 1623-4
Died 1662-3 (ae 76?) at Essex, England

issue:

- 2. 1. Sarah, Born 1623-4, married about 1639
  William Thorne; had a son Denton Thorne born about 1659 (see note below)
- 3. + 2. Daniel, Born 1626, died 1703

Married 1st. 1659 Abigail Stevenson 2nd. Apr. 24, 1676 Hannah Leonard

- 4. 3. Timothy, Born 1627, Bapt. July 23, 1627 at Parish Church, Bolton, Lancashire.
- 5. + 4. Nathaniel, Born 1629, died Oct. 18, 1690

  Bapt. March 9, 1628-9 Married 1652, Sarah
- 6. + 5. Richard, Born 1630 died Dec. 28, 1658
  Resided at Dorchester, Mass., married Dec. 11,
  1657 Ruth Tileston (see note below)
- 7. + 6. Samuel, Born 1632-4 Died 1713

  Married 1656 Mary Smith, daughter of John Rock.

  8. + 7. John, Born 1636.

Note: I give the data on the daughter Sarah as Eardeley has it in his mss. notes. William Thorne of Hempstead and Flushing.

Long Island did not have a wife Sarah. There was a William Thorne with wife Sarah at Roxbury, Mass., and it may be that this was the man whom Eardeley meant. His notes on the Denton family did not contain a full list of the children of Sarah (Thorne) merely stating that her tenth child was named Denton Thorne.

Note: There is no proof that Richard Denton of Dorchester was the son of Rev. Richard. Eardeley evidently classed him as a son because of the family name. It is entirely possible that he may have been.

Thompson's History of Long Island II - 497 says:
"Mr. Denton was born of a good family at Yorkshire, England 1586, educated at Brasenose College, Oxford, where he graduated 1623 and was settled as minister of Coley Chapel, Halifax for seven years." Flint's Early Long Island says, p. 126
"Richard Denton, born in Yorkshire, 1586, was graduated in Cambridge in 1623. He was the minister of Colby Chapel, Halifax and with many of his congregation came to America with Winthrop." Another authority says he graduated from Catherine Hall, Cambridge, 1623.

Here seems to be a difference of opinion as to where he received his education, but an agreement as to the date of his graduation. Venn. in "Alumnae Cantabrigensis" says he graduated from St. Catherine 1622-3 and is probably correct.

A contemporary comment on Rev. Richard Denton is found in Cotton Mather's "Magnalia Christi" vol. 1, p. 398
"The apostle describing the false ministers of those primitive times calls them "clouds without water, carried about of winds." As for the true men of our primitive times, they were indeed "carried about of winds", though not winds of strange doctrine, yet the winds of hard suffering did carry him as far as from England into America: the hurricanos of persecution wherein doubtless the "Prince of the powers of Air" had its influence, drove the heavenly clouds from one part of the heavenly church into another. But they were not clouds without waters, when they came with showers of blessings and rained very gracious impressions upon the vineyard of the Lord.

Among these clouds was our pious and learned Mr. Richard Denton of Yorkshire, who, having watered Halifax in England with his fruitful ministry was then by a tempest tossed into New England, where first at Wethersfield and then at Stamford, his doctrine dropped as the rain, his speech distilled as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass. Though he were a little man, yet he had a great soul; his well-accomplished mind. in his lesser body was as an Iliad in a nutshell. I think he was blind of an eye, yet he was not the least among the seers of Israel: he saw a very considerable portion of those things which eye hath not seen. He was far from cloudy in his conceptions and principles of divinity, whereof he wrote a system, entitled "Solilioquia Sacra" so accurately, considering the four-fold state of man, in his. created purity, contracted deformity, restored beauty and celestial glory, that judicious persons who have seen it, very much lament the churches being so much deprived of it. At length he got into heaven beyond clouds, and so beyond storms: waiting the return of the Lord Jesus Christ in the clouds of Heaven, when he will have his reward among the saints." Mather concludes this with one of his couplets

"Here Denton lies, his toils and hardships past
Whose name no memory of dishonor mars.

On earth a light of faith, he shines at last,
Full-orbed and glorious with the eternal stars."

Most authorities agree that he died at Essex in 1662. Thompson says aged 76. He says (II-497) "On the tomb erected to his memory in that place is a Latin inscription, of which the following is a free translation:

"Here sleeps the dust of Richard Denton;
O'er his low peaceful grave bends
The perennial cypress, fit emblem
Of his unfading fame.

On Earth

His bright example, religious light!
Shone forth o'er multitudes.

In Heaven

His pure rob'd spirit shines
Like an effulgent star."

The Latin inscription is given in Flint's Early Long Island, page 126.

"Hic jacet et fruitur Tranquilla sede Richardus Dentonus cujus Fama perennis erit.

In Cola jam coeli velut Astra micantia fulget Que multi Fidei Lumina clara dedit."

It would seem possible that the Latin is close to Mather's couplet, and that Thompson's translation from it back to the original English, an admittedly "free" translation, has lost something of the power of the original, but as Mather's couplet would seem to have been written long after the inscription on the tomb, we can only marvel at the coincidence.

According to Venn's Cambridge Alumni, he died 1662 at Hempstead, Essex. Inquiry at that place has developed the pear that Denton was not rector or curate there in 1660 to 1663. Hempstead, Essex, was strongly Puritan, however.

In the hope that Richard Denton had left a Will recorded in England a search of wills and administrations was made there in the period 1660-1680, but without result. I felt that perhaps the reason for Daniel Denton's trip to England in 1670 might have been to settle his father's estate, but if this was the case, the records apparently do not show it. It seems strange also that historians have been so generally mistaken about the burial place of Richard Denton. He certainly is not buried, nor is there any stone memorial to him at Hempstead, Essex.

Daniel Denton, son of Rev. Richard was born about 1626, in Yorkshire, England, according to the weight of authorities, and evidently accompanied his father in his various migrations, till about 1650, at which time he was Town Clerk at Hempstead, L.I. In 1656 he was one of the first settlers at Jamaica, L.I., and there also became Town Clerk. he was one of the magistrates at Jamaica. Oct. 28, 1664 he was one of the grantees of the deed for the land at and about Elizabethtown, N.J. known as the "Elizabethtown Grant" or pa-Appointed Justice of the Peace by Gov. Nichols 1665 and 1666. In 1670 he revisited England where he published a "Brief Description of New York, formerly known as New Netherland," which as it is one of the earliest contemporary accounts now remaining, is frequently referred to as a history. A perusal of it will convince the reader that its purpose was to increase migration of desirable settlers to the new land, and it gives advice to prospective settlers. Returning to America, Daniel settled at Piscataway, East Jersey, where he was appointed Magistrate Aug. 25, 1673. 1674 he sold there and went to Springfield, Mass., where he taught school and was Town Recorder. At a town meeting June 12, 1684 at Jamaica, it was ordered that "Daniel Denton shall have liberty to come and settle himself and family in Jamaica." Here he was once more Town Clerk. Dec. 20, 1689 he was commissioned County Clerk of Queens County. He died about 1703, leaving no will of record. He married first about 1659 Abigail Stevenson, daughter of Edward and Anne--, by whom he had two children, Daniel and Abigail. Being divorced from Abigail June 26, 1672 he married, second, at Springfield, Mass., April 24, 1676, Hannah Leonard, born Dec. 19, 1659 at Springfield, daughter of John Leonard and Sarah Heath.

Abigail (Stevenson) Denton, divorced wife of Daniel Denton, married (2) October 1672, Major Daniel Whitehead, born 1642, died 1704, son of Daniel Whitehead and Jeanne (Skidmore) (V.33 p. 101 N.Y: G. & B. Rec. Skidmore Gen. 1911 page 266.) By him she had 6 children:

Nathaniel<sup>2</sup> Denton, born about 1629, baptized March 9, 1628-9 married about 1652 Sarah (Smith?) see below.

He resided at Jamaica and was one of the earliest settlers there in 1656. 1664 applied for land at Elizabeth-town, N.J. 1665 sold it to John Ogden. 1665 & 1686 Patentee at Jamaica, N.Y. He died Oct. 18, 1690 Left no will.

A daughter Sarah, or else the widow Sarah seems to have married before 1698 Richard Cocnor or Codner, see 1698 census of Hempstead.

Note: The will of Nathaniel refers to Nehemiah Smith of Jamaica as his cousin. It is therefore possible that the maiden name of Sarah, mother of Nathaniel was Smith. If so, she would seem to have been a daughter of William and Magdalen Smith, who were early at Hempstead and Nowtown, later at Jamaica, where William died about 1670, leaving Wait, Nehemiah, Thomas, Joseph and Samuel. Note names in Nathaniel's family.

John Denton, son of Rev. Richard, seems to have been born about 1635. In the mss. notes a suggested approximate date of 1664 is given as the probable date of his marriage, with the note of the birth of a son, John, born 1665. It is stated "family data claims he went to Virginia." No further authority is given for these statements.

It is a fact that a John Denton, perhaps a descendant, was living in Shenandoah Co., Va. about 1780.

11 11 110

S.W. Eager in "Outline History Orange Co., N.Y." says John went to Orange Co. It appears, however, much more probable that the John Denton of Orange Co. is of a later generation.

Daniel<sup>3</sup> Denton, (Daniel<sup>2</sup>, Rev. Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born about 1661 at Jamaica, N.Y. and baptized at the Dutch Church in Brooklyn, Dec. 14, 1679, being aged about 17 or 18 at that time. In 1681, while residing with his father and stepmother at Springfield, Mass., he was presented to the Grand Jury in Springfield "for running away to Rhode Island, and marrying without the consent of his parents." He married Deborah ---- He died about 1690, after having returned to Jamaica, L.I.

Married 2nd., about 1703, Samuel Smith (The mss. classifies this Samuel Smith as son of Samuel, son of Thomas.)

Thomas was son of William and Magdalen of Jamaica.

The data above does not agree with the Seaman genealogy as published. This mss. gives as authority the 1698 census of Hempstead, where are listed consecutively John Seaman, Jr., Hannah Seaman and Els (Alice) Denton. Hannah and Alice Denton were sisters. The Seaman Genealogy makes John son of John marry Esther Williams and have John and Joseph married Sarah Bartoe. It gives no further trace of John. The incidence of dates and the 1698 census would seem to make the pedigree as given above more probable.

Samuel Denton (Daniel, Rev. Richard), born

Sept. 29, 1679 at Springfield, Mass., died about 1721. He married, about 1700, the daughter of Jonas Wood and Deborah. (Wiltsie?) He died 1721.

It would seem that he had only one son, though there may have been other children.

Abraham Denton (Samuel , Rev. Richard) resided at Hempstead, N.Y. Born in 1675. The mass. has no further data, except the following:

Kakiat Patent, N.Y. (Hackyackawek of the Indians) now New Hempstead or Ramapo, Rockland Co., N.Y. was granted June 25, 1696 to Daniel Honan and Michael Howdon (of New Rochelle?). Honan sold his half, the south, March 12, 1716 to John McEvors. He sold half of his share Jan. 9, 1717 to Capt. Lancaster Symes. Howdon died 1712 and his 3 executors, John Jansen, John Cook and Nathaniel Marston sold 1717 the north half of the patent to Capt. Cornelius Kuyper, Charles Mott, Timothy Halstead, Jonathan Seaman, Thomas, Barker, Timothy Halstead, Jr., Caleb Halstead, James Searing, Jonah Halstead, Isaac

Seaman, Abraham Denton, William Osborn, John Searing, Thomas
Williams, John Wood, Samuel Denton. All of these, with the exception of Kuyper, came from Long Island.

(28)

Jonas Denton (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, Rev. Richard<sup>1</sup>), born about 1677, resided at Hempstead, N.Y. In the 1698 census he would seem to be single, but he must have married at about that time Jane<sup>3</sup> Seaman, daughter of Jonathan<sup>2</sup>, born about 1679. issue:

91. + Samuel born 1698

Married 1716 Mercy Searing ( core; Ada Wate

92. John born about 1700

94. + William born 1704 died 1752?

(to Cumberland Co., N.J.)

Married 1729 Ann

95.

96.

NOTE: Although in the 1698 census Jonas Denton is found listed with his parents, we know that he married Jane Seaman at about that time or shortly before. It is therefore possible that Jane, Dinah, and Benjamin Denton, who appear separately on the census, may have been his wife Jane, and two children, born about 1695 to 1698.

An additional child of Daniel Penton and Abigail Stevenson is believed to have been a daughter werey, born about 1.05. The fill of Maj. Daniel whitehead leaves a residuary entate to assuidow asigail (Ptevenson, Denton) Thitehead, and to werey, the Mife of Thomas Detts. Denealogical articles on the Whitehead family have usually referred to werey petts as the daughter of whitehead. It appears, however, that she was the Mife of Detts probably as early as 1683. As Paniel whitehead married abigail (Ptevenson) Denton in Oct. 1670, and is not known to have had any other wife, it could appear much more probable that Mercy Betts was the daughter of Daniel Tenton, rotained by her mother after the divorce in 1670, and perhaps too young to leave her mother at that time. In the will of Whitehead he does not refer to Mercy as his daughter, but leaves the bequest to "Mercy the wife of Thomas Detts." His own children are characterized as "my son"

or "my daughter."

100 100 100 Note. The Will of Nathaniel Denton refers to Nehemiah Smith as a cousin. This word in those days frequently meant "nephew" and we find that Nehemiah Smith was a son of Wait Smith, who married Phebe Ashman, while Nathaniel Denton married Deborah Ashman, both being daughters of Robert Ashman. Thus Nehemiah Smith was the nephew (cousin) of Nathaniel Denton, and this reference appears valueless as indicating the maiden name of the wife of Nathaniel Denton. (Correct also page 22.)

Page 20.

Hannah Penton is believed to have married her second husband Samuel Smith, son of Thomas, son of William and Magdalen of Jamaica and Huntington, about 1700. As the two sons John and Joseph Seaman were apparently unborn at the time of the 1693 census, it would seem probable that they may have been twins, born about 1699.

married about 1715, Mercy, the daughter of James Searing, by whom he had a daughter buth. This data appears erroneously on page 43, where the data properly belonging to this Samuel is given as pertaining to Samuel, the son of Jonas (#91). A deed in liber C of Deeds, page 120, at Jamaica, shows clearly that the executors named in the will of Samuel dated April 13, 1717, in which he leaves his residuary estate to "my well beloved brothers Joseph Denton and John Denton the son of Jonah Denton," when selling the realty, under the power of sale in the said will, acted as "executors of the last will and testament of Samuel Denton Jun." Jonas Denton was an executor also of the will of his brother, Samuel Denton Jun., but his co-executor under the terms of that will was Samuel Emery of Flushing, while in the deed referred to above he acted with James Searing, named in the will of Samuel dated April 13, 1717. (Correct also page 49.)

Charity tredwell, born about 1700, died before May 14, 1730, probably in 1729. She married about 1719, Benjamin Smith "Rock" (Jonathan, John ). Their children were:

- 2. Samuel born about 1782

probably M. Dec. 22, 1744 Levinah Raynor recorded at amaica, "iber b-2 page 660 from "Daniel Denton, late of the City of Bristol, in Great Britain, but at present resident of Jamaica in Queens Co." conveys several parcels of land "with all his rights in undivided lands", thus identifying the grantor as probably a native son. It is probable that with the proceeds of this sale Daniel removed to mempstead, where, shortly after, he married Hannah beaman.

Athelena (or Arthalonor) Penton, widow of Solomon Denton, did not marry as her second husband Joseph Denton of Greenwich. did marry as her second (not third) husband, John Coe. The confusion is caused by an error in -. P. Mead's abstracts of the records of Stamford Probate Court in which Head gives the information regarding the filing of the Inventory of estate of Joseph Denton, Nov. 13, 1734, and then continues with an item to the effect that Samuel Denton "only child of decedent" was aged 14 on Oct. 1, 1734; at which time his mother, arthalonor Denton, married John Coe. The original record makes no mention of Joseph Lenton in this item (page 59, Vol. One) and it is apparent that wend incorporated his own conclusion from the known facts into what purports to be an abstract of the record, thus distorting the fact. Arthalonor Denton was a widow and married her second husband, John Coe, probably before the death of Joseph Denton. The son Samuel referred to in the 1734 record is, therefore, the son of Solomon Denton, and born 1720 instead of 1718, as Eurdeley had guessed:

This will also correct page 49, where appears the article on Joseph Penton (93). He is now proven to be Joseph (62), the son of Richard, and did not marry Arthalonor, widow of Solomon, nor did he have a son pamuel. (Correct also page 24.)

Papers filed at the Clerk of Court of Appeals, Albany, N.Y. show a settlement and partial distribution of the estate of Samuel Denton in 1713, and give considerable added data. It appears that Peter Smith received the share of his mother, Mary Ellison, a deceased daughter of decedent. This shows that Mary had married as her third husband Thomas Ellison, a widover with a family of several, in whose family Peter Pmith is found in 1093 census. As the Hostrand childwren do not appear in the census, it seems reasonable certain they were deceased by that time, and as Peter Smith received the full share of his mother Mary, it is also apparent that he was her only surviving child in 1712. Martha Penton was the wife of Ezekiel Emith at the distribution. Jane, the wife of Joseph wobinson, received a plure as the daughter of decement. This clears up a long-standing mystery as to the parentage of the Jane, Pinah, and Penjamin Benton who appear on the 1698 census directly following a Peursall family. Jane was not married in 1698, and Joseph Robinson is also found single on the census.

Proof that Dinah and Denjamin were also children of Damuel Denton is by inference from the mathematical computation of the partial distribution of the estate. The Midow received one third, the remainder being divided into thirteen equal shares, of whice only nine shares were distributed. The son Damuel did not share in this, and we know that it was usual to give a double share to the eldest son. Therefore two shares remain unaccounted, and we conclude them to be Dinah and Denjamin, who are found with Jame on the census.

Nathaniel Denton's will, when the original record book is consulted, appears quite differently from what the purported copy now in use gives it. The date of probate in the original is Aug. 30, 1736, not Aug. 13, which date is actually before the date of the will. Also, in the original, Nathaniel refers only to an infant, a child, not children, and refers to her, clearly indicating that he had only one, a daughter. Other details given are correct. This will cross out (#337) Alexander as a son of Nathaniel. It is probable that the daughter of Nathaniel may have been the Deborah Denton of Jamaica who married 27 Jan. 1757, Jacob Carpenter at Newtown Presbyterian Church.

Page 53.

Isaac (#121) Denton did not have a son William (#299).

His will makes no mention of such a son, and from narratives of descendants I am convinced that this is an error. Eardeley placed William in this family because of statements of the descendants of William that he was a brother of Isaac Denton. The origin of this statement may be in the fact that in 1770 Isaac Denton took into his family, at the time of the death of the wife of John Denton (his brother) an infant child of John Denton.

I believe that William Denton was the son of John #118, and not the son of Isaac #121.
